

Kerr United

Every day, volunteers, donors, and advocates are improving lives in many ways: helping a child learn to read, donating money so people have access to quality medical care, supporting policies that provide training for in-demand jobs, and so much more. Local United Ways focus our work on meeting community needs, raising resources to support that local work, and being accountable to the communities of Kerr County. In Texas, United Ways work with individuals, businesses, school districts, private foundations, the public sector, and other community partners. This is one of United Way's greatest strengths: bringing local community together to address local problems.

United Ways are independent nonprofits that bring together people and organizations to focus on innovative solutions to local community challenges. Together, United Ways and their partners positively impacts the lives of millions each year and strive to go beyond a temporary fix by focusing on lasting, systemic change. As part of a network of nearly 1,800 United Way organizations around the world—including over 80 United Ways in Texas—our local impact is part of global change as well. The work of United Ways is accomplished through the passion of 2.8 million volunteers worldwide as well as the generosity of 9.8 million donors, who give their time, money, and voice to improve the lives of others. When you choose to donate to the United Way, you support all of the United Way's work, including our Community Partners, to create much needed opportunities for Kerr County's children, students, families and individuals. Your gift helps us unite the community and to help solve our most critical issues.
